

Fawaz Al Thumairi
Group Head of Treasury Business
The Saudi National Bank

Mr. Fawaz Abdullah Al Thumairi is the Group Head of Treasury Business at SNB, where he manages the bank's balance sheet and investment portfolios strategically across a broad spectrum of asset classes. Before assuming his current role, Mr. Al Thumairi amassed extensive experience in several executive roles within Global Markets, Treasury, and Wholesale banking. In addition to his current responsibilities, he serves as a member of multiple executive committees at SNB.

Experience:

Mr. Al Thumairi's professional journey in the banking sector began by assuming various roles within treasury, focusing on investment, ALM, and trading. He then transitioned to NCB, where he was appointed head of derivative trading and later assumed the role of head of trading. In this capacity, he built a substantial portfolio as a leading player in the Saudi market, managing diverse asset classes such as foreign exchange, rate derivatives, commodities, and structured solutions.

He was later appointed as the head of principal strategy, where he managed the bank's investment books, covering areas including asset allocation, rates, credit, equity, and alternative investments. Subsequently, he took on the role of head of global transaction banking group at SNB, where his primary mandate was to expand the bank's portfolios in trade finance, cash management, and digital channels.

Currently, Mr. Al Thumairi serves as the group head of treasury business at SNB, overseeing the bank's balance sheet and liquidity management, alongside managing a diverse range of investment portfolios.

Mr. Al Thumairi holds a bachelor's degree in Management Information Systems from King Fahd University of Petroleum & Mineral and has completed the High Impact Leadership program at Columbia Business School, New York.
